

BEG

20nm

This high-resolution transmission electron micrograph (HRTEM) shows several parallel, elongated nanowires or nanoribbons. The structures are primarily colored in shades of blue and green, indicating a specific crystallographic orientation or phase. They are surrounded by a dark, granular matrix. A scale bar in the bottom left corner indicates a length of 20 nm. The label 'BEG' is positioned in the top left corner.